

Home Decor Ideas

Contributed by geo
Thursday, 22 March 2007
Last Updated Friday, 23 March 2007

Home decor ideas for if you have a creative block.

Maybe you have just moved into a new house or apartment and want to totally redecorate your new home in the same look and feel as the last place you lived in. Or, maybe you are happy with your current decor, but want to make a few small changes to liven you house up a bit. Whatever your reason, you could be in need of some home decor ideas.

Its possible that you are not experienced in decorating, because you have always relied on basic furniture, draperies and a professional decorator, also the wall color has been the same ever since you moved in. Now, however, you want to get in touch with your inner creativity, and decorate your home so that it looks as if it could be featured in a magazine. Lucky for you, there are several home decor ideas that even the most uncreative person can do.

Home decor ideas on what color to paint the walls:

The first step in changing the look of a home is to change the wall color. You may have noticed that by painting a large room darker it gives the impression or allusion of being smaller. By doing the opposite and paint the color of a small room lighter, it makes it look a lot larger.

Now, which ever color you have chosen to paint your room, make sure you do it. Wallpaper has become a little outdated, and if not done by a professional, can really look awful and start to peel. This may seem ridiculous, but if you were good at coloring inside the lines of a drawing as a child, then you can certainly paint a room.

All you need is a good brand of paint, a roller, a pan, one large brush, and a smaller brush for painting the corners. It is a good idea to paint the smaller rooms by yourself, so you don't fall over each other due to lack of space.

Home decor ideas for color harmonization:

Another essential thing to take into account in home decor is how colors work together with each other. For example, it is not the most attractive sight to have a room decorated entirely with several shades of a single color. Therefore, it is important to balance the colors. For example, if you like pastel colors, decorate the entire room in no more than four completely different kinds of pastel colors, otherwise it could find it bit overpowering.

More home decor ideas and information

There are lots of different ways to find a selection of easy home decor ideas. The first step is to read some home decor magazines. You can also go visit a local home improvement center and ask a one of the staff for some ideas. Of course, you can also surf the internet for more options. Home decor ideas are on the whole quite easy to come by, so don't let your lack of creativity stop you from decorating your home in the way you that you would like.